Headline:

Feeling cold with sunny spells and showers.

Today:

A cold start to the day with sunny spells but also some showers in the west. Showers breaking out more widely during the afternoon, but easing by the evening to leave clearing skies. Feeling cold, although warmer in any sunshine. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:

Clear and dry this evening but some patchy cloud and the odd isolated shower arriving through the early morning. Feeling cold with a widespread frost. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Monday:

A frosty start for some but cloud and showers spreading from the north during the morning. These showers will ease through the evening leaving a fine night. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:

Rather cloudy with occasional showers on Tuesday and Wednesday although some sunny spells too. Dry with some sunshine on Thursday. Gradually becoming milder.
